

Armistice Day
And the Self-Starters
Industrial Samurai?
The Potentate's Aunt

Eighteen years ago tomorrow, November 11, 1918, the war ended and earth celebrated Armistice Day. More than TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND MILLION dollars, and twenty million lives had been sacrificed, wasted, worse than thrown away, many lives wiped out by disease, many of the billions wiped out by dynamite and incompetency.

The wholesale murder stopped and the world each year celebrates the happy day as though a criminal freed from prison should celebrate yearly the day on which he committed his last murder.

The world celebrates also, although many do not know it, an event more important than any connected with the butchery of human beings, namely, the invention of the self-starter for automobiles.

That invention, now 18 years old, occurred in 1912. For the automobile industry and the world's inhabitants, it solved one of the greatest problems of transportation. It saved countless of the lives of motorists, the law that men have been fighting since the first lame buffalo was hitched to the first rough sled, or mounted by the first daring cave-man.

Today Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chief executive officer of General Motors, chief engineer, inventor of the self-starter.

Those old enough to remember "cranking" the car will call him blessed, and wish for him many more years of hard thinking and useful inventing.

Another straw in the prosperity wind. The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company announced increases of 9 to 10 per cent in wages of plant employees, and office workers in the lower salary brackets.

All these "raises" the public will pay, of course, what the employer spends in wages the consumer must spend in buying. But, money is distributed, the standard of living goes up, the general public has greater buying power, and in that buying power national prosperity depends.

John L. Lewis, a powerful labor union personality, with strong law and strong will, will meet Mr. Green, head of the American Federation of Labor, to discuss "getting together."

There are now ten strong antagonistic labor organizations, plus a few "outlaw" branches of unions like the striking seamers, dockhands and others.

Some thought before the recent election, that organized labor might become the real government of the United States, Congress, the President, possibly the courts, what to do. The size of the recent vote would discourage that.

It was nothing to do with any smaller group, not even an important group as the 4,000,000 enrolled union labor men.

The big major split in labor's ranks, plus many little splits and cracks, would destroy the late Samuel Gompers. He would wonder how many splits union labor could stand, without permanent injury—especially if corporations and other big employers, now raising wages and cooperating with a workers' union, would turn one great employers-workers union, with fair pay, reasonable hours, and other rights.

There might be a sort of industrial "samurai," like the Japanese of "samurai" days, as useful as one period to Japan's upper classes. The "samurai" of the industrial world would be good pay and short hours.

Spanish War's Gory Cost

Bursting in air, a "Tike" shell fired by Spanish loyalists at a rebel-manned ship explodes in midair and warns the rebels that the enemy is about to attack from the shore at San Sebastian. The flat boats, running to the shore, were used by the rebels for escape when a hull-sinked their vessel. What happened may be seen below.

Food Crisis Trails Hawaii Strike

By WEBSTER K. NOLAN

San Francisco, Nov. 10 (US)—With first overtures for peace momentarily expected to emanate from a protracted conference of the joint maritime strike committee, a desperate appeal to federal agents here for immediate relief was received from the territorial government.

Appealing conditions prevail at the port of Honolulu with 110,000 people, a milk shortage imminent and violence threatened. Governor James B. Henderson, who is in Hawaii, is expected to arrive here today.

In addition to the emergency situation, the territorial government is facing a severe shortage of food and other necessities. The situation is expected to worsen if the strike continues.

There are seven ships with passengers, and crew members are suffering from lack of food and other necessities. The situation is expected to worsen if the strike continues.

Ships are released, it will take out 1720 people and relieve the food situation. A large shipment of food is expected to arrive here today.

SAILOR Offers Blood IN VAIN BUT HE WINS DEATH RACE

Two-year-old Nancy Callan hovered between life and death in Mercer Hospital at Trenton, N. J. today, watched hopefully by her father, Ymanan James P. Callan of the U. S. S. Balch, which is docked at Boston Navy Yard.

Nearly 1000 police had watched for Callan last night in Boston. They found him after questioning 700 other United States sailors.

They said that the two-year-old daughter was ill of pneumonia in a mental at Trenton and needed a transfusion of her blood to save her life.

All night she lay lying dead in the hospital of the child and when he reached Trenton this morning it was in fact that she died, like that of other donors who had volunteered for the crime of giving blood.

The wedding of Callan, in Boston, was held when the father's condition became critical for need of blood and 33 young men volunteered were found not to give the right type.

Shore Leave

The marriage was held in Boston after the father had been discharged from the hospital, where he was in a coma, and was in fact a different person. The father's blood was donated in a matter of minutes.

TITLE For 'Wally' IN MAY ENGAGEMENT COMES LATER

London, Nov. 10 (U.S.)—For a presentation of one of the most magnificent of the King's titles, the engagement of King Edward's coronation next May.

There is no question regarding the possibility of his abdication as was clearly indicated in the Queen's speech from the throne in the House of Lords.

Mrs. Simpson will become the Duchess of Lancaster as the Duchess of Cornwall at that time, successor of the King's title.

Makes Decision
A high authority with the King has, step by step, evolved his plan, which the beautiful Baltimore, Md., woman will meet with cautious approval as his prospective bride.

This authority said reports that Queen Mary disappointed of her son's actions were justified. Gradually, in spite of a general and unopposed opinion in England, news about Mrs. Simpson has reached Britain's shores.

In London, the King has carefully studied and understands his own position and will, it is said, if the necessary steps be taken that about all the talk of his return home be over.

HUGE BOSTON VICE RING BARED BY G-MEN

Fifteen G-men, working secretly here for several weeks, it was learned today, have uncovered organized vice conditions approximating those exposed in the Luciano investigation in New York.

The federal authorities have the names of a score of this and other racketeers in the control of crime, as well as the names of men acting as agents for the ring. In some cases, the ring is reported to have been in operation for as long as 10 years. It is also reported that the ring is now being broken up by the G-men.

As a result of this roundup of data, it is believed that the G-men will launch a series of raids to close up houses operated by the ring, while federal authorities endeavor to higher up in the organization.

One of the most important of these is the case of a woman named Mary, who is believed to be the head of the ring. She is reported to have been in operation for as long as 10 years.

Whether physical or intellectual, evidence is being worked by the G-men in a number of cases. It is also reported that the G-men are now working on a woman named Mary, who is believed to be the head of the ring.

Later, he took her home, but was further alarmed when a burglar emerged from the house and appeared to want to enter him in the morning, claiming the door of his car, he drove away. The next day the woman telephoned him but he refused her advances.

Federal officials said that they had information that the man connected with the vice ring in New York, looked on Boston as a "rough place" to do business, because of the police and the fact that the police were closing up the places remaining open. However, they were expecting him to return.

This condition it was said served to bring some of the most adventurous spirits in the trade to this city, and eventually their number increased. Until Federal authorities decided to move in, they were successful in driving in other cities.

FROM NEW HAVEN
Five of the events said have to gather information on the ring expanding activities came from New Haven where a man and woman were arrested in January and fined totaling $22,000.

Dick who would take them secretly found but they were careful to state that they lived in Massachusetts, thus preventing the federal authorities in preventing further evidence of an elaborate traffic in violation of the Mann Act.

Although the address where the girl gave in this way was not verified, their arrest prevented an almost insuperable obstacle, which led the federal authorities to seek cooperation of the police. The outcome is now being awaited by the Department of Justice officials.

Police Commissioner Eugene M. McInerney has already returned Captain Francis M. Tierney of the New York division to run down on leads obtained in the Rindley raid on a Commonwealth avenue mansion, where a man and two women were arrested. No link between the group and interstate operations has been shown.

WHITELY OVERCOATS

We don't think there is a suit in New England better known or better liked than our own "Whitely" that we sell with two pairs of trousers for $25. When we decided to tailor an overcoat that would be just as popular, we used the same prescription; we appropriated part of the profits to better fabrics and better tailoring than are normally used in making $25 clothes. And the result is apparent at first glance. These Whitely Overcoats, like our Whitely Suits, are made for men who could well afford to pay more. They're not tailored to fit a price, but priced to fit an idea. You'll find hundreds and hundreds of them here Monday in a complete range of fabrics, models and sizes.

"A simple idea we use in our business . . . 'Always try to give a man more than he expects for his money.'"

BAD MAN TAMED

Volney Davis Relieved After Game Ended

By MELVIN PURVIS
CHAPTER XXIV

As I have stated previously when Special Agents and that there is sufficient time to do so every possible precaution is taken to guarantee the safety of people in the neighborhood where a raid is contemplated.

At Oak, Fla., a woman and her daughter were found residing in a small house nearby in which Ma Harvey and Fred Davis were living. They were warned that there would be gunfire and requested to leave their residence until the raid was completed.

They returned, but when the bullets started flying, they immediately fled from the house. We have since learned that the woman and her daughter were not hurt.

Melvin Purvis

The raid was planned for the night of November 9, 1936. It was the first of a series of raids planned by the Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The raid was successful in that it resulted in the capture of several persons and the seizure of a large amount of cash and other valuables.

WHAT THIS COUNTRY NEEDS IS A GOOD $35 SUIT!

Park Lane Suits
do the trick!

Of course, you've a taste for the better things in life. All of us have! But in the matter of clothes, we've had a bit of a time indulging that taste—at a price to fit our pocketbooks. To borrow an old campaign phrase "what this country needs is a good $35 suit." And Band has it! We're not going to bore you with a long story about expensive woolsens and superb needlework. "Seeing is believing"—one look will impress you with the very evident character of these new Park Lane Suits. But the facts behind their amazingly low price need a word of explanation. Band is the only retail clothes in America who owns a tailoring plant in Rochester—and you know where Rochester stands when it comes to quality. The profits we'd ordinarily have to pay an outside maker go into your pocket. You save what we save! Seems like a pretty swell reason why we should get together, doesn't it? And the time to do it is right now, while selections are at the peak.

LAUNCH DRIVE FOR MEDFORD POWER PLANT

A new drive for a municipal electric plant in Medford was launched today by the Medford Progress Association headed by Mark B. Coughlin, Edward H. Jones and Albert C. Coughlin, who claim the alliance can be saved $200,000 a year.

The association is holding 100 rallies as a petition for the Board of Aldermen requesting a vote on the proposition.

Although the board has once given its endorsement to the proposition, a second approval is necessary under the law and the time limit for this expires Dec. 23.

"Consumers of electricity in Medford pay one of the highest domestic rates in this state," said Coughlin, who is secretary of the association. "The rate is approximately 4 1/2 cents per kilowatt hour."

"In municipalities owned plants, such as in Belmont and Haverhill, for the same amount of electricity the consumers pay only 2 1/2 to 3 cents per kilowatt hour."

"Our high rate is due to the fact that the electric company has, in each of the past three years, paid a dividend amounting to $100,000."

"But the Medford Electric Company, which supplies Medford, does not generate any electricity. Instead it is the fact that it is the chain of interlocking companies each of which must get a profit."

"This company purchases its electricity from the Eastern Massachusetts Electric Company, which in turn purchases it from the New England Power Association. All three companies are controlled by the same group."

"Each of these companies nets a substantial profit. In addition there are six other companies which share in the revenues."

"In 1935, at the time of the last public reports, the Medford Electric Co. was worth $1,000,000. The North Boston Electric Company, which was in turn controlled by the Massachusetts Power Association, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and the International Paper & Pulp Co. and finally the whole group being held largely by Continental Shares controlled by the Chase National Bank of New York."

Vets Warn Public Against Pedlars

The members of the United American Veterans of the World War will be asking nothing or nothing but a contribution to the American War, Edward J. Wain, department commander of the organization, warned the public today.

"Noting that pedlars will probably give you 'parade uniforms' but in fact, they are nothing but a bunch of swindlers," Wain said.

"The New England public is misled by thousands of letters, innumerable men and boys, and children who call themselves 'veterans' and who are soliciting donations in exchange for 'parade uniforms' or other cheap articles, implying by their dress, or their approach that they are representatives of organizations."

"They are really operating as individuals or part of a sales gang, and pocketing the proceeds themselves. The public will do the real damage unless a favor is returned to the veterans."

Four Boys Held In Murder Plot

MASSACHUSETTS, Nov. 10 (U.S.)—Four boys, 14, 15, 16 and 17, have been indicted for the murder of a 15-year-old boy, James J. Wain, who was shot in the back of the head by a bullet fired from a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver.

The boys, who were arrested by the Boston police, are charged with conspiring to kill Wain, who was a member of the same gang as the boys.

"I CAN AND DO EAT HEARTY..."

"THAT CAMEL after the race certainly hits the spot," says Lou Meyer, winner of the 1936 Indianapolis Auto Classic. "Smoking Camels makes food taste better and gives me digestion to fight."

"BOWLING IN THE TOURNAMENTS tests digestion," says Lou Meyer. "I eat hearty and thank Camels for being of real aid to digestion." Camels help the flow of digestive fluids, increase alkalinity. They set you right!

Modern Home on Wheels New Cars Delight To Feminine Eye

New York, Nov. 10 (U.S.)—The modern covered wagon—parlor, bedroom and bath on wheels, with kitchen, electric refrigerator and automatic heating thrown in—steals the spotlight at the 1937 automobile show, opening tomorrow at Grand Central Palace.

These handy pleasure vehicles, which have been in the days when the West was young, are now being shown in a more sophisticated place at one of the most famous automobile shows in the world.

Although the board has once given its endorsement to the proposition, a second approval is necessary under the law and the time limit for this expires Dec. 23.

BEAUTY ADVICE.
Hold the chin up, steady to the young ladies, for the neck and shoulders are the most important parts of the face. A weak neck is a disfigurement, and a drooping shoulder is a disgrace. Every girl should be careful to keep as young as her days. A strong, firm neck and shoulders are the key to a beautiful face.

LEWIS HANEY ON BUSINESS

Prosperity Peak TO BE REACHED in Next Four Years

By LEWIS HANEY
(Professor of Economics, New York University)
New York, Nov. 10.—The general feeling about business that resulted from the election is one of relief that we are out of the dark period and uncertainty as to the outcome, and of hope for renewed expansion in the near future.

Business men are fastidious about the way they can count on continued large movements spending. More important than that they can count on a large amount of government borrowing, and this, together with the government's direct position, means for money rates.

Even when they are not so sure of the future, the feeling is that there is no renewed hope that business's activity at the time will improve him with the responsibility of the power.

Apparently, it is unnecessary to repeat that it is now highly important in the New York leadership that business conditions should be kept as solid as possible and show substantial improvement.

If business activity is as good as it is, the peak and recession of one year will occur during the next four years. In that event, the present administration would be left completely responsible. It will surely seek to avoid such a situation.

To my mind, the most significant development concerning business has been in the change in commodity prices. Last week the averages rose sharply, it represents the high of the year.

The movement was a local one in which metals and textiles participated. It was not a general one in which all commodities participated. I am inclined to think it marks a beginning in the peeling of domestic prices under the general "unemployment" situation.

The international depression in the United States is reflecting devaluation and weakened government credit, in both. It is no longer so much a foreign exchange.

Incidentally, the commodity prices have both fallen relatively to the dollar. The pound is getting further away from the old exchange rate of $4.86. The franc is getting down toward the lower limit allowed by the recent devaluation.

These movements have gone along with a movement of gold from these countries into the United States, thus further increasing our monetary gold and put across bank reserves.

Thus, currency depreciation in one nation affects the currency of others.

Another factor affecting prices is the outlook for increased costs of production, whether in the United States or abroad. The New Deal victory means more power for organized labor.

That means higher hourly wages and higher manufacturing expenses. The New Deal victory means continued governmental attempts to control production for the purpose of making things higher priced.

For example, steel wages are being raised about 10 per cent. This probably adds between $2 and $3 per ton to the cost of making steel. Sugar prices run up because crop control is anticipated, thus making sugar dearer.

But on "costs" rise because of higher prices, prices have to be raised because of higher costs.

One high price leads to another. The higher prices get the less goods money will buy, and the more money we need.

This is how currency depreciation proceeds and becomes "inflation."

There was little change in the general level of industrial activity last week. On the whole, I would say that it held up a little better than usual for the season. Order weather stimulated retail trade. Railway carloadings declined less than usual, chiefly on account of heavier coal shipments.

While labor difficulties are serious and threatening, I am inclined to think there will be some more control for a while at least. They may even find a compromise by passing "forward buying" on the part of business men who desire to anticipate higher prices, or delivery difficulties, or both.

WAGE Levels VIEWED

STANDARD OF LIVING

By MERVILLE STANLEY RUKYER
Copyright, 1934, by Universal Service
New York, Nov. 10.—In connection with the recent wave of good news in the form of voluntary pay increases by large employers, it should not be forgotten that there is no prevailing American wage rate.

Neither, strictly speaking, is there any American standard of living.

There is, of course, a standard of living which Americans do not wish their fellow citizens to fall.

However, it is difficult to say what this standard is, and it is even more difficult to say what it should be.
